

Who will make your health care decisions when you can't?

WHAT is a Healthcare Power of Attorney (POA)?

- A Healthcare Power of Attorney is a document that allows you to choose a person (an "Agent") who will have the authority to make healthcare decisions for you if you are unconscious, mentally incompetent, or otherwise unable to make such decisions.
- In Nevada you can also communicate your wishes regarding whether you wish to receive "life-sustaining procedures" (to be kept alive) if you become permanently comatose or terminally ill, in the Healthcare Power of Attorney document. This will help your Agent to know your wishes as he or she makes decisions for you. Even if you do include this in the document, you should still discuss the Healthcare Power of Attorney with your Agent, expressing your wishes regarding what you want to happen to you regarding healthcare.

WHAT is a Durable Power of Attorney?

- Durable means that the document will remain in effect or take effect if you become mentally incompetent. You can also sign a durable power of attorney document to prepare for the possibility that you may become mentally incompetent due to illness or an accident. In this case, you would specify that the power of attorney wouldn't go into effect unless a doctor certifies that you are mentally incapacitated.
- The power of attorney will remain in effect indefinitely or you can specify in it a date for it to end. You can also end it by completing a new Healthcare Power of Attorney or simply telling your Agent or doctor that you no longer wish it to be in effect.

WHAT is the Difference Between a POA and a Living Will?

- A Healthcare Power of Attorney is different from a Living Will because it allows you to choose someone to make healthcare decisions for you. A Living Will only allows you to communicate your wishes concerning life-sustaining procedures.

IS the POA an Advanced Health Care Directive?

- Both Living Wills and Healthcare Powers of Attorney are considered "Advance Healthcare Directives" because you're giving instructions on what you'd want to happen in the event that you become unable to make healthcare decisions in the future.
- Nevada also has a specific "Advance Healthcare Directive" document that combines elements of a Healthcare Power of Attorney and a Living Will. (For a more in-depth look at Advance Healthcare Directives, Healthcare Powers of Attorney and Living Wills, link to: <http://nvsos.gov/index.aspx?page=214>)

DO I have to Choose a Lawyer to be My Agent?

- You don't have to choose a lawyer to be your Agent, but it is important to select someone you trust.

- The relative or friend you choose to be your Agent will be acting for you regarding your healthcare issues.
- You need to choose someone who won't abuse the powers you give them and will look out for your best interests.

WHAT if the Person I Choose as Agent is Unable to Serve?

- There is always the possibility that the person or organization you choose as your Agent either won't be able to serve or will refuse to serve. That's why you have the option of choosing a Successor Agent (or second Agent) who can take over as Agent if necessary.
- Here is an example of why choosing a Successor Agent is a good idea: A young adult chooses a former teacher as their Agent. The teacher moves across the country to care for an aging parent and is no longer available to make decisions on behalf of the youth. If the youth had chosen a Successor Agent, that person is then able to make decisions if necessary.

WHERE Do I Get the Document?

- Your caseworker will provide you with the POA document during your transition plan meeting.
- Your caseworker will provide you with the opportunity to execute the POA at age 18. You may also link to: www.dcss.state.nv.us for the form.
- Certain Family Resource Centers may also be able to provide the form if they have provided Independent Living services to foster youth aging out of the system.

SIGNING the Document

- A power of attorney must be signed by the person granting the authority; which is you (known as the "Principal").
- The Principal must be a legal adult (age 18 or legally emancipated) and mentally competent at the time of the signing in order to make the document legally binding.
- If there is any question about the Principal's mental competence, a physician may be asked to certify in writing that the person understands the document and the consequences of signing the document.
- The signature on a power of attorney can be "witnessed" by two adults or be notarized. Notarization makes it harder for someone to challenge the validity of the signature.

WHAT HAPPENS to the document after I have signed it?

- Your caseworker will place a copy in your file and assist you in providing your "Agent" a copy; you will retain the original.
